Lap-Band Results

Despite the fact that there can be some Lap Band After Affects, most patients will tell you that the surgery was well worth it.

With the lap band procedure, patients can generally see a loss of anywhere from one to three pounds each week following the surgery.

Most lap band patients will also note a gain of their self-esteem following lap band surgery as they feel about their health, how they look and how the procedure has changed their life for the better.

While Lap Band After Affects can occur, potential lap band patients should not let that deter them from a surgical procedure that can be life changing.
